Inland Provence is a cycling paradise of tiny villages linked by quiet backroads, all calling your name! So grab your bike and pedal into French village life, breathe in the aromas. Time-tested relics will guide the way, from prehistory to the Roman era, as you soak up the sun, sights and wine and savour the produce of Cotes du Rhone.

Glide along country lanes and Roman roads, climb up to remote hilltop passes. Cruise past vineyards, olive groves and sleepy hamlets, and indulge in frequent stops at ornate chapels and quaint castles. Linger in story-book villages and get lost in Provence.

Starting in the village of Graveson or Barbentane, your itinerary will lead you to the historic city of Arles, where you can visit the Roman theater and the arena. You will then cycle on to the hilltop village of Les Baux-de-Provence, where you can visit the famous château. Your journey along ancient roads will take you past splendid churches, medieval castles and fascinating Roman sites, with many stops along the way. Your vacation will end in the village of Graveson or Barbentane.

Tapenade, bouillabaisse, pistou soup, olives, aioli, salade niçoise, herbs and, of course, olive oil. Enjoy the famous Provençal dishes! Three dinners are included on days 1, 4 and 6 of this trip.

Day to Day

Day 1 Arrival in Graveson or Barbentane

Your cycling trip takes off from Graveson or Barbentane, just 15 minutes by taxi from Avignon Station. Settle in, rinse off the dust after your journey and blend into the surroundings that so inspired Van Gogh.

Day 2 Graveson/Barbentane - Tarascon

Strike out on a route to Tarascon, either through the Alpilles foothills or via St Michel's Abbey in Frigolet. Whichever route you take, the superb scenery will swallow you whole! The well-preserved Castle of Tarascon, former residence of Count Rene d'Anjou King of Provence, guards an excellent display of tapestries and earthenware jars, while the Musee du Tissu Souleiado overwhelms with countless sorts of fabric. Tuesday is market day, a chance to check out local specialties. Take an evening stroll by the river for a closer look at stately 17th and 18th-century homes.

Challenge: 20km, 27m ascent, 32m descent

Day 3 Tarascon - Arles

Head north into the rugged and rocky scenery around Fontvieille, where local windmills include Alphonse Daudet's Mill, described in the author's 1869 tales 'Lettres de mon Moulin'. Continuing onward, you encounter Arles, a major Gallo-Roman city founded in 7th century BC. Spend time at the Arena and Roman Theatre, cycle along the canal and stop off at the reconstructed Van Gogh Bridge, setting for the painter's famous "Pont de Langlois" works.

Challenge: 25.6km, 31m ascent, 22m descent

Day 4 Arles - Les-Baux-de-Provence

A shorter ride leaves time to explore the area around Les-Baux-de-Provence, a picturesque village with royal history and towering fortified ruins. Peruse the artifacts at local museums and relish in an evening steeped in history and 'beauté provençale'.

Challenge: 21.2km, 169m ascent, 34m descent

Day 5 Les-Baux-de-Provence - Saint-Remy-de-Provence

Circle back to Maussane on backroads enjoying gorgeous views of the Alpilles, then continue onward to Saint Rémy. Vincent van Gogh spent time here at the asylum in the year before his death, and his paintings from that era celebrate the local light and colours. Other well-known artists have portrayed the area as well, including Picasso, Gauguin, Matisse and Cézanne. Save ample time to explore delightful Saint Remy, whose hidden charms include the house where Nostradamus was born.

Challenge: 27.4km, 257m ascent, 386m descent

Day 6 Saint-Remy - Graveson/Barbentane

Pedal along dirt roads lined with orchards, where it's nothing but olive groves and fruit trees! Pause to peak into the village of Eyragues, with its splendid 18th-century clock tower and fortified Romanesque church of Saint Maxime dating back to the 11th century. Stretch your legs on ancient lanes lined with the remains of ramparts, then speed along through vegetable gardens and farmland around Châteaurenard. Your route finishes full circle as you ride back into Barbentane or Graveson.

Challenge: 24.8km, 79m ascent, 118m descent

Day 7 Departure from Graveson/Barbentane

Your cycling trip comes to an end today after breakfast. An optional transfer to Avignon train station can be arranged in advance, or on the spot at your accommodation.
